

A Mother's Appeal to the Business Men of Maysville

It is a shame in the face of a civilized Maysville for so many business men to take the stand they have taken against the abolition of the saloon. Evidently we are only half civilized or we would not have tolerated these bar-rooms so long in the faces of our boys, fathers and husbands.

In God's name may these men see the error of their way, put aside their greed for supposed gain, and come to their senses sufficiently to be able to see that they have made a bad bargain if "they gain the whole world" out of money made on whiskey if they lose their own boys, and this mother's boy and another mother's boy, and another have wrecked lives and fill drunkards' graves.

Suppose these men are acting from a mercenary motive and that they gain in the contest, can they not see that while they may call themselves business men that they are sowing seeds of destruction, that they are blind leaders of the blind and that as sure as harvest follows seed-time a crop of wrecked lives must result from a "wet" Maysville. Heart strings will continue to be torn asunder and the very earth groan beneath our feet when we are called to lay away in her bosom the wrecked bodies of fathers and sons, the remains of debauched and wasted lives, ruined by the saloons that these men seek to fasten upon us.

Now, business men, citizens of dear old Maysville, I have often thought that I would like to live in town for the sake of the conveniences. When my friends have asked me: "What town would you like?" I have always said: "Maysville appeals to me. Her citizenry is so familiar, I would not want to go among strangers. I love my own the best."

But the dawn of another day came and my eyes were dimmed with tears when last September it came to the time to send our only child, our son, to his first term of High School. It was so hard to commit his tender life into your keeping with so many saloons on all sides and corners. The first thing in sight after leaving his train is a bar-room, a pretty sight to greet the eyes of school boys!

Oh, business men of Maysville, why longer will you insist on keeping these places in our midst when you know too well the danger? We are compelled to send our sons to you if we educate and train them for business. I could only ask God to direct my boy's footsteps. But God will not always be merciful to us if we do not try to help ourselves. So I did the only thing I knew to do. I called to see Prof. Caplinger and asked him please to try to keep my boy under his care and not permit him when not in school to loaf on the streets. I did not know whether at his tender age, my boy's will power would be sufficient to resist all your dangerous temptations. We have no assurance that men are ever old enough to be safe against temptation.

Now, business men of dear old Maysville, I implore you, do not through this mistaken notion of business interests spread snares for the feet of your own boys and for the boys of country mothers who must send their dear ones to you. As far as in you lies place only that which will uplift and enable before my boy and your own.

Let the accursed saloons with all they stand for go.

A COUNTRY MOTHER.

"You Can Not Legislate Morals into a Man"

The apologists of the Liquor Traffic are continually echoing Mr. Henry Watterson's saying "You can not legislate morals into a man."

No one ever tried; but you can legislate against men conducting in the open and under protection of the law a business that makes other men immoral. This has been done many times and in many places with encouraging degrees of success.

You can not stop murder, theft, gambling, adultery, false swearing and many other evils by law; but you can attach to each a heavy penalty and discourage these evils instead of licensing them.

Heathen China is destroying by law the opium traffic forced on her by Christian England. The yellow man may yet teach the white man the true meaning of civilization.

The Business Men's Association will admit that drinking intoxicating liquors is bad for a man's health, character and business. Not one of them wants his son or his employee to be even a moderate drinker. But they want somebody else's son and somebody else's employee to drink liquor ville. The country people understand the proposition. The county people understand the proposition.

It is the purpose of the law to conserve the health, character, and business interests of the community by making it easy to do right and hard to do wrong.

The open saloon not only makes it easy to do wrong, but suggests and invites to wrong doing.

The confirmed drinker hunts liquor. The Liquor Traffic hunts men to make them drinkers and spends vast sums of money in seductive advertising in the effort to attract men to drink.

The law can not prevent the drinker from hunting drink, but it can prevent drink hunting the drinker by keeping open-shop and by attractive advertising.

THAT IS WHAT PROHIBITION PROPOSES TO DO.

The advocates of Prohibition have never claimed nor even hoped that it wholly annihilates the drink habit; but they do claim that it will reduce the number of victims of drink to the irreducible minimum.

"NOT GUILTY"

Is Verdict in Famous Reese Clark Case. Defendant Acquitted of Charge of Manslaughter.

The jury in the case of Mr. Reese Clark, charged with manslaughter, yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty. The case went to the jury yesterday shortly after noon and after being out two and one-half hours the jury returned the above verdict.

The defense was ably handled by Attorneys Worthington, Cochran and Browning, of this city, Gramis of Flemingsburg and Judge Holmes of Carlisle.

The prosecuting attorneys were: Hennessy, Buckner and McCartney.

Mr. Clark, it will be remembered, shot and killed William White, 19, near Sardis, on Wednesday, May 28, 1913.

He was brought to Maysville and placed in jail. On the 20th he was allowed bail in the sum of $5,000. He furnished bail and was taken to Wilson Hospital to be treated for injuries he received in his fight with young White. His examining trial was set for June 5th, but on account of Mr. Clark's weakened condition the trial was postponed until June 11th. There was some little difficulty deciding as to whether the crime had been committed in Mason or Robertson county. The ground was surveyed and it was declared to have been committed in Mason. Clark was tried and held to the Grand Jury.

Some very eloquent speeches were made by the attorneys on each side.

DR. PORTER HERE SUNDAY NIGHT.

MR. THOMAS ALLISON

One of the Oldest and Most Highly Respected Citizens, Died at His Home in the County, This Morning.

Mr. Thomas Allison, one of the county's most highly respected citizens, died at his home on the Clark's Run Pike this morning at 8:15 o'clock, aged 79 years. His death was due to senile debility.

Mr. Allison has been in very poor health for some time, but his illness had been acute only since Monday.

He is survived by his wife and seven children: Mrs. Charles Hunter, Mrs. William Durrett, Mrs. John Cochran, of this county; Mrs. Edward Rennie, of Cincinnati, and Misses Allie and Jessie Allison, and Mr. Robert Allison, of this county.

Mrs. Allison was formerly Miss Elizabeth Brannan.

Mr. Allison was a member of the Presbyterian Church at Washington, and was one of the prominent farmers of this section.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been announced, but the burial will be in the Maysville Cemetery.

HOPE FOR MISS SHANKLIN'S RECOVERY.

There is no change for the worse in the condition of Miss Ellen Shanklin, and her physician, Dr. Reed, says she now has more than an even chance for recovery. Mr. Virgil Rolfe arrived from Fort Meyers, Florida, yesterday morning to be at the bedside of his niece.

Mr. Elmer Hays, who has been attending school at Jasper College, Jasper, Ind., returned yesterday to resume his studies.

BADLY BURNED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Best Met With Sad Accident in Vallejo, Cal.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Louise Best, of East Second street, in response to a telegram, left for Vallejo, Cal., to minister to her brother and his wife, both of whom were badly burned by a gas explosion at their home in that city.

Commander Best is one of Uncle Sam's most promising young naval officers, and for a year or so past has been in sole command of the Cruiser Stewart, fronting the Mexican border on the Pacific Coast.

Recently his ship was ordered to the Mare Island Navy Yard for repairs, and Commander Best and his family took up their residence in Vallejo, where himself and Mrs. Best met with the deplorable accident.

While their injuries are necessarily painful, so far as present advice is at hand, they are not thought to be dangerous.

WEEKLY SPORT LETTER

(By C. H. ZUBER.)

Cincinnati, September 9.
Another week has passed and the settlement of the question of supremacy in the National League still is as far from decision as ever it was. When the Bostonians dropped a few games during the tail end of their final western trip there were shouts all over the circuit of "They've shot their bolt." But recent results show that the Beane as strong as ever they were, their even break with the Giants on Labor Day keeping them in the swim and enhancing their prospects for landing at the head of the column in a month from now. While Chicago and St. Louis are not to be considered out of the running for the flag, they must be reckoned as long shots, both teams playing a majority of their games now on out foreign grounds, a handicap that is likely to prove their undoing. Sizing up the two leaders—Boston and New York—and comparing them with the Philadelphia Athletics, who seem to have the American League championship parked up and delivered, brings on the inevitable conclusion that the world's championship will go to the Americans again this year.

The coming Sunday, September 13, will witness a sort of jubilee at Red land Field. In the way of sport there will be a doubleheader between the Reds and the St. Louis Cardinals, these games marking the last appearance of the crew of Huggins on the local lot this season. In the way of real jubilation there will be a presentation to Manager Herzog of the Reds, of a magnificent chest of silver, the gift of friends and admirers who feel that the strenuous efforts and loyal service of the Reds' leader should be shown appreciation by the fans who follow the fortunes of the Reds. Many local enthusiasts have contributed to the fund raised to meet the expense of this testimonial, and there also are a number of contributions from outside sources. It sure will be some day for Herzog and for the fans generally.

Efforts are being made by the officials of the Cincinnati Automobile Dealers' Association to have manufacturers of automobiles and aeroplanes exhibit types of war machines in the Fall Auto Show, which will be held in both wings of the Cincinnati Music Hall from October 3 to 10.

According to authentic advices the war in Europe has prevented the closing of a deal by which two American trotting stallions were to have been transferred to European ownership for the sum of $225,000. The horses in question are Peter The Great (2:07 1/4) and Peter Volo (2:04). Both are owned by W. E. D. Stokes, owner of the Patehen Wilkes Farm, and while it is to be regretted that Mr. Stokes was unable to cash in on the amount specified, there is some satisfaction to the sport-loving public that these great sires are left to the American breeding industry for a temporary period at least.

About Sept. 20th, Governor Wilson and Wm. Marshall Bullitt will begin a 55-day whirlwind campaign of the State, aiming to visit every county.

Attorney General Gregory attended his first cabinet meeting Tuesday.

FOOD FACTS.

What An M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful restorer and restorer of nerve and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients gain very rapidly, just as I did in strength and weight.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this state, but two months there did not improve me; in fact, I was not as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me and I became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial 10 days of Grape-Nuts, when regular food does not seem to sustain the body, works wonders. "There's a Reason."

"JOHNNY REBS"

Otherwise Known As "Morgan's Raiders," Have Grand Re-union At Olympian Springs.

(Nicholas Advocate.)

The Eleventh Annual Reunion of Morgan's Men was held at Olympian Springs last week and about one hundred veterans were in attendance. The comrades attending from this city all report a splendid reunion.

On Wednesday Colonel Polk Johnson read the following letter written to Mrs. Lizzie Smith, mother of the late C. R. Keller:

"Hon. Polk Johnson,
"Olympian Springs, Ky.
"Dear Sir—It is gratifying to an old mother's heart to know that her dear son is still remembered by his comrades. Had he been spared he would have been right among you. God bless you all.

"Green Keller's Mother,
"ELIZABETH SMITH."
"Now in my eighty-ninth year."

Colonel Johnson stated that Mrs. Smith and the mother of Frank Day of Mt. Sterling, who is more than 90 years of age, were probably the only mothers of Confederate veterans living in the State, if not in the whole South.

Colonel Johnson read two war poems at the request of the ladies present.

One of the poems follows:

THE VETERANS' PARADE

Git my old knapsack, Mary, git my uniform of gray;

Git my battered helmet, Mary, I'll need them all today;

Git my castron and my leggin's, hand me down my empty gun.

For I'm goin' out paradin' with the Boys of '61.

Never mind the blood stains, Mary, Never mind that ragged hole;

They were made there by a bullet, that was searching for my soul.

Just brush off them cobwebs, Mary, git my bonnie flag of blue.

For I'm goin' out paradin' with the Boys of '62.

This uniform don't ... me as it did when I was young.

Don't you recollect how neatly to my manly form it clung?

Never mind that sleeve that's empty, let it dangle loose and free—

For I'm goin' out paradin' with the Boys of '63.

Draw my sword belt tighter, Mary, put the straps beneath my chin;

I'm growing old and threadbare like my uniform, and thin;

But I reckon I'll pass muster like I did in days of yore.

For I'm goin' out paradin' with the Boys of '64.

Now I'm ready—kiss me, Mary, kiss your old sweetheart goodbye,

Push away those tear drops, Mary, Lord, I didn't think you'd cry!

I ain't goin' out to battle, cheer up, Mary, sakes alive!

I'm just goin' out paradin' with the Boys of '65.

Now I'm ready—kiss me, Mary, kiss your old sweetheart goodbye,

Push away those tear drops, Mary, Lord, I didn't think you'd cry!

I ain't goin' out to battle, cheer up, Mary, sakes alive!

LEXINGTON SALOONS

To Be Subject To Stringent Regulations Under New Ordinance.

Lexington, Ky.—By a vote of three to two the new saloon ordinance separating the saloons from the groceries and other lines of business, increasing the annual license from $500 to $750 and providing for the gradual reduction of the number of saloons in Lexington to 75, was passed by the Board of City Commissioners after one of the longest sessions in the history of that body.

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine."—Mrs. S. T. Richmond, 199 Waldo Street, Providence, R. I.

A Minister's Wife Writes:

CLOQUET, MINN.—"I have suffered very much with irregularities, pain and inflammation, but your wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has made me well and I can recommend the same to all that are troubled with these complaints."—Mrs. JENNIE AKERMAN, c/o Rev. K. AKERMAN, Cloquet, Minnesota.

From Mrs. J. D. Murdoch, Quincy, Mass.

SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—"The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living."—Mrs. JANE D. MURDOCH, 25 Gordon St., South Quincy, Mass.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., (C/O DR. J. C. LYN, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

GERMANS RETREAT

unchanged." Up to early afternoon no further official light had been thrown on what is probably the greatest battle of the war being fought east of Paris from Montairial to Verdun, and from Verdun to Nancy. Three million men are said to be engaged.

Emperor Will Flee to America If He Loses, Says London Paper.

London.—In the event of Germany's defeat in the big war, the Kaiser probably would take refuge in America, according to the London Financial News, which says:

"There can be no doubt that the defeat of Germany in the present war means for the Kaiser one of two things: Either death by his own hand or some- body else's hand, or else flight to non-Teutonic soil.

"Ever since Germany began to make preparations for an attack, the Kaiser has been investing large sums of money on the other side of the Atlantic. He is one of the largest land owners in the Western states, but not in his own name of course.

"He owns considerable sections of property in Western Canada. These investments in America indicate plainly that the Kaiser, at the time when he was preparing to stake the fortunes of his dynasty upon the attempted conquest of Western Europe, also was preparing for the possibility of failure, by consolidating his huge financial resources in the United States and the neighboring Dominion, in case he has to escape to that part of the world.

"If he cannot lose Western Europe, the Kaiser means to have the finest house on Fifth avenue."

Bordeaux, via London, Sept. 9.—The following official communication was issued here this afternoon:

"On the whole the Germans appear to be beginning a movement of retreat. The strategic position of the French troops is improving, but one can not judge a battle extending over 100 kilometers (63 miles). The Germans seem to experience difficulty in provisioning. In general the French troops seem to be gaining the advantage.

The following official bulletin was issued tonight:

"On the left wing all the German attempts to break the French line on the bank of the Ourcq river have failed. We have taken two standards. The British army has crossed the Marne and the enemy has fallen back about twenty-five miles. On the center and right wing there is no notable change."

Allied Armies Still Have Advantage.

London, Eng., Sept. 9.—The allied armies continue to have the advantage according to French official reports, on what can only be the preliminaries of a great battle extending from Meuse, northeast of Paris to Verdun, about 200 miles further east.

The Germans, who have brought up reinforcements, are attacking along a front of fifty miles, but each time have been driven back.

This is not surprising to military men, as the Germans have been compelled to advance through the swamps of the Petit Marne and then over bare uplands to the strong French position on the right. It is their only chance, however, and it is expected that they will strike and strike again.

They are bringing their reinforcements down from Châlons in the face of the French artillery, posted on the heights, which give it a great advantage.

Kaiser Cables Protest to President Wilson.

Washington, Sept. 9.—President Wilson received today a personal cablegram from Emperor William, of Germany, protesting against the use by the allied army of dum-dum bullets and the participation in the war by civilians of Belgium. The message expressed also the German Emperor's deep regret at the destruction of the Belgian City of Louvain.

"My heart bleeds for Louvain," is one of the phrases which the Emperor is understood to have used. He declared, however, that the population of
